PASSENGER TRAINS COLLIDE

DISASTER ON DENVER & RIO GRANDE ROAD

Trains Meet on Sharp Curve While Running Full Speed—Number of Dead Estimated at Twenty to Thirty-five.

Pueblo, Colo., March 16.—A wreck accompanied with horrors exceeded only by the Eden disaster, which occurred Aug. 7, 1901, on the line of the same railroad, resulted from a head-on collision between two passenger trains on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, four miles east of Florence, Colo., early this morning. The trains were the Utah-California express No. 2, westbound from Denver, and the Colorado-New Mexico express No. 16, eastbound from Leadville and Grand Junction. They met on a sharp curve and were less than 200 yards apart when the engineers discovered a collision was imminent. It is known that the engineer of the westbound train put forth every possible effort to bring his train to a stop, but his efforts were fruitless, and although he succeeded in checking the speed of his train, the crash that followed was beyond his power to prevent, and he went to his death with his hand on the throttle, faithful to his charge. This much is vouched for by his fireman, who, seeing the uselessness of remaining in the face of sure death, jumped and saved himself. Of the conduct of the engine crew of the eastbound train it can only be said that they died at their posts, for no one lives to tell the story of their heroism.

The disaster was made more horrible by the number of death of many passengers, variously estimated at twenty to thirty-five. Fire swept the wreck, engulfing the victims in a cauldron of flame and leaving only charred and blackened bones to tell the tale of the slaughter.

The list of injured given out by officials of the railroad comprises twenty-two names. Some of the injured are dangerously hurt and it is believed all will recover.

ORDERS WERE CHANGED.

Utah and California express No. 3, westbound, left Pueblo an hour and a half late and was given orders to meet Colorado and New Mexico express No. 16, eastbound, at Florence. This order was changed and the westbound train was directed to pass the eastbound train at Beaver, twelve miles east of Florence.

The order should have been delivered to the train crew at Swallow, but for reasons still unexplained, the operator there neglected to do so. Meantime the eastbound train had received its orders and expected to meet the westbound train at Beaver.

Both trains were running at the usual speed, a deep snow and high wind making it necessary to exercise exceptional care. Suddenly both headlights flashed out from the darkness and it was realized something was wrong. According to the story of Fireman J. H. Smith of the westbound train, Engineer Walter CossloTT opened the emergency brake and the train was checked for an instant, but the slippery rails and momentum of the train carried it on.

From stories told by several trainmen who survived, and who were in the forward part of the train, the impact was scarcely noticeable, but the quaking, grinding noise that followed warned them something had been struck. The helper engine on No. 2 evidently acted as a sort of cushion, absorbing the force and weight of the heavy mountain engines that had the trains where the grade does not require assistance. This helper was crushed together like so much paper and the monster machines ran right through, locking themselves together. Fireman Smith was the only one of the engine crews to escape. The baggage car of No. 2 broke in two and three coaches squeezed together. The baggage and mail cars and one coach of No. 16 buckled, but none of the cars were released.

FIRE BREAKS OUT.
Hardly had the trainmen and passengers reached a realization that all was not right when the other horror, a sheet of fire, ran through the cars on both sides of the engines, and in a twinkling the crackling sound of burning timbers started them to action. In the forward coach of the westbound train every seat was occupied by passengers, most of them home-seekers on the way to the north-west. A number of foreigners were among them and in their terror they gave up life without making any attempt to reach safety outside the burning car. Paralyzed with fear and with prayers upon their lips, they sank to the floor of the car and were roasted alive. The collar ones in the car, seeing their danger, rushed for the windows and doors, and with the aid of passengers in the rear of the train and those of the train crew who were unhurt, reached the open air. Rescue of the unfortunate in the burning cars was made impossible by the intense heat, and the onlookers were compelled to leave them to their terrible fate.

FAMILY ALMOST WIPED OUT.
One of the pathetic tragedies of the disaster was the wiping out of all but two of the family of Taylor Hewitt of Lebo, Kas. The father, mother, daughter, grandchild and wife of the two sons are missing. The two sons, E. A. Hewitt and W. L. Hewitt, are among the injured in the hospital here. E. A. Hewitt said to night:

"Our party consisted of my father, Taylor Hewitt; mother, Lillian Hewitt; sister, Pearl, aged 15; brother, W. L. Hewitt; sister-in-law, Winona, 31 years old; wife, Catherine, 7 years old; our 4-months-old baby, Claude; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cowley, and Fred Jones. We were going to Joseph, Ore., to work in a saw mill for my grandfather, H. M. Ricker. I had a dream several months ago, in which our family was all killed. I saw just as plainly as I later saw the real wreck, everything that took place after the collision. I saw people trying to drag themselves out of the cars; saw strong men plead to be killed; saw my wife and baby consumed by fire before my eyes, and as I struggled vainly to rescue them I awakened in terror and with cold beads of perspiration crawling slowly down my face.

"I went forward to my party. My wife was sleeping soundly. Our little boy was just half asleep. Catherine awakened and said, 'Goodnight, sweetheart.' I leaned over and kissed her and she smiled. I sat down again, but in a few minutes was aroused by a crash. When I tried to move I found my leg was broken. I heard my wife calling me, but I could not go to her. Some one dragged me out. I screamed for some one to rescue my wife and baby, but nobody paid any attention. Men were running madly about calling for their wives; mothers were wildly screaming for their children, and some were throwing themselves in the snow. I saw Fred Jones hanging out of a window of a burning car, pleading for some one to kill him. Flames shot up about him and he fell forward dead."

Hewitt and his brother will return to their home in Kansas and bury their dead.

DIED HANDCUFFED.
In the front end of the ruins of the smoking car of No. 3 were found the charred hand of a man, crossed and held together by a pair of handcuffs. It is all that is left to show of a convict who was being taken to prison and was burned in the wreck. Near the ghastly hands were found two revolvers, the property of Deputy Sheriff Baird of Denver, who was also killed. His prisoner was an actor known as Archibald Whitney, who had been sentenced to the penitentiary for forgery. In the bones of his fingers was held with the grasp of death a metal piece from the window casing. The prisoner had attempted to climb out of the burning car and might have escaped a horrible death but for the handcuffs.

The monetary damage to the railroad proper is $200,000. In addition to this all baggage on No. 16 was destroyed, as well as the mail.

AN OLD EMPLOYEE.
S. F. Lively, night operator at Swallows, who alleged failure to deliver orders to train No. 16 is supposed to have been the cause of the wreck, has been in the employ of the road many years. He was relieved from duty to night and will be suspended until the matter is investigated.

DEMOCRATS OF SOUTHLAND

URGED TO TAKE LEADERSHIP OF PARTY.

Have Been Faithful to Party in Victory or Defeat—Advice Given by Judge Parker, Late Candidate for President.

Charlotte, N. C., March 16.—Judge Allen B. Parker of New York, Democratic candidate for president in the last election, tonight, in an address before the Manufacturers' club of this city, urged southern Democrats to take the leadership of the party. He declared they should do this because they had been faithful to their party in victory or defeat, while the contrary was the party condition in the north. Referring to recent events, Parker said:

"In 1886 you tried Nebraska and since that day no old Democratic northern state has accredited one of our party to the United States senate, and in none has there been a friendly governor. All the Democratic training schools in the north—elementary, intermediate and higher—were closed and remained so. The party paralysis was complete and almost fatal.

"In 1890, hoping to cure or palliate it, you advised returning again to New York for your candidate, only to meet the worst defeat in our party history. It is now nearly twelve years since any man professing devotion to your party has been chosen in the nation, or a northern Democratic state to fill an important executive office. At the last election perhaps eight out of ten of the voters then under 20 years were reared with our opponents, and to day the party organization are lifeless. Their one-time leaders are dead, or have abandoned, or worse, have become Republicans. While in more than one state the threat hangs over them that they may become the victims of the spoiler, the destroyer of the constitution. When such conditions confront you, why should you hesitate any longer? Until the Democrats of Nebraska and New York and the other northern states have brought forth fruits meet for repentance, or at least so long as they are threatening to give themselves and their party over to further destruction, should you not assert yourselves?"

"The time has come when the really effective Democrats of the country should be recognized and when they themselves should no longer hesitate, decline or refuse to accept these honors which are their just due for work well done. It may possibly be that the party will go to defeat again, but since 1896 it has done nothing else under northern leadership, and certainly it cannot be worse."

White Pigeon, Mich., March 16.—The business section of this village was nearly wiped out to day by a fire which started in the furniture store of Alfred Wickett. To night only seven store buildings remain of the business section. The fire destroyed two saloons, the postoffice and a barber shop, the Farmers' Savings bank, E. N. Gorton's dry goods store, Gilliam's dry goods store, A. L. Reed's confectionery, Mason's and E. A. Hamilton's drug stores and the office of Dr. J. R. Williams. Action in Dolan Case Endorsed by Convention of Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 16.—The special national convention of the United Mine Workers of America this afternoon endorsed the action of the executive board in sustaining the finding of President Mitchell in the matter of ousting Patrick Dolan and John Bellingham from the presidency and vice presidency of district No. 5. So far as the national organization is concerned this is the end of Dolan's case. Only the pleas of President Mitchell and Secretary Wilson prevented the expulsion of Dolan from the organization. Dolan and his supporters claim something of a victory or defeat from the fact that he was voted as a delegate to the convention as was also Vice President Bellingham.

The two actions followed immediately on the partial report of the credentials committee, which had included the names of Bellingham and Dolan as delegates. Other business of the convention was the appointment of the committees and the report of the scale committee.

FILIBUSTERING IN THE HOUSE

BY FRIENDS OF GENERALS CORBIN AND MACARTHUR

Legislation to Take Away Rank of Lieutenant General in Army Comes up Unexpectedly—Amendment Now Pending.

Washington, March 16.—For an instant in the house to day there was a lapse in the vigilance of those who had been on guard to prevent legislation which would take away the rank of lieutenant general in the army, and the chances of Generals Corbin and MacArthur for promotion. Prince, of Illinois, whose bill abolishing the grade question is regular order of business and recall of committee, slipped into the legislative breach. There was an immediate call to arms on both sides and for three hours friends of the generals filibustered against the bill. The net result was that the previous question is ordered on the bill, and an amendment is pending, having been offered by Freese, of Ohio, which extends the time of operation of the bill so as to allow the promotion of the two officers named. On this amendment the house was voting, but without quorum, when an adjournment was had until Monday, when the vote will be completed. At present it stands seventy-eight yeas, and eighty-three nays on the amendment.

Previous to this, the first round of the session, there had been four hours debate on the legislative bill. Shackelford opened the program with severe criticism of Speaker Cannon, which he was not allowed to finish. Then followed a somewhat lively debate on the appropriation bill.

The accused men were committed without bail for their hearing to-morrow.

The bank was closed this afternoon and will not be reopened to-morrow, said President Oswald to night. Beckley, when searched in his cell, had in his possession fifteen notes of $500 each from the Pennsylvania Paper Mills company of Catawissa, drawn on the First National bank of Catawissa. At a recent convention of librarians, says the New York Tribune, the following story was told of old Geronimo, the most celebrated Indian prisoner ward the federal government has ever had:

"Do not the products of civilized life astonish you?" Geronimo was asked by his keeper.

"Most of them do not, for I saw how they come about," said the aged Indian.

"But," he added, "they took me once to New Orleans and showed me where they made ice. At one end of a building I saw wood thrown into furnaces, and out of the other end came blocks of ice. Man did not do that. Only the Great Spirit can make ice from fire."

STORM DELAYS 'SPRING TRADE'

BENEFITS TO CROPS WILL OUTWEIGH DAMAGE.

Wholesale Trade and Industry Show No Signs of Hostility—Possible Strike of Coal Miners Only Flaw in Situation.

New York, March 16.—Broadstreets may be the wide spread winter storm has delayed opening of spring trade at retail, causing some complaint of bad roads and interruption to personal buying at leading jobbing centers. On other hand benefits of accompanying heavy maws or rains to crops probably far outweighs damage due to this cause. Wholesale trade and industry show no signs of hostility and even building trade have given little heed to the temporary weather net back.

The coal strike situation is still a flaw in the situation, but signs of conflict being localized are seen, and general suspension of all work is feared. Railway earnings for February and the first half of March break all records for this season. Additional favorable features are reports of improvement in flour trade, heavy sales of leather and higher prices for wool. Iron and steel mills are busily employed. Prices generally show strength but together, there is everything to indicate spring trade, present and prospective, will break all past year's records.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week, 2,010,000 bushels, against 895,000, the week last year; July 1 to date, 19,150,000 bushels, against 15,000,000 last year. Corn exports, 2,335,000 bushels, against 2,810,000 a year ago; July 1 to date, 80,153,000 against 55,071,000 in 1905.

Wool's REPORT.
Wholesale conditions are much improved in commercial channels, ten or twelve reports being favorable, and comparatively little anxiety is felt regarding the wool situation. New prospects are being reported, calling for much capital and giving employment to many wool growers. Several sales have been closed that provide for higher wages after this month and general prosperity of the wool is believed to assure a very large retail trade in spring wearing apparel. Manufacturing returns from the leading industries continue favorable, the week's feature being record breaking sales of leather, while steel mills and iron furnaces operate at full capacity. The demand for lumber exceeds the supply and glass factories are preparing to advance quotations. Exports of farm products in February exceeded last year's by $23,000,000, or about 15 per cent, and the export of foreign commerce at this point of the last week shows gains of $2,584,428 in exports and $1,522,157 for imports, compared with a year ago. Railway earnings for the first week in this month were 8.9 per cent larger than last year's.

The number of failures this week in the United States was 229, against 250 last year.

Piles Are Caused by Some Physics

Physics—usually salts, tablets and pills—cause piles more often than any other one cause. Such remedies produce griping, which is the direct cause of piles.

A proper physic will not cause griping, but will produce an easy and satisfying bowel action.

Morgan County Teachers' association Friday.

The first problem and possibly the most difficult one that confronts the director in relation to the teacher is the employment of the teacher. He should endeavor to secure the very best teacher he can for the wages paid by his district. Unless the director knows the applicant as a first class and experienced teacher he should reserve judgment until he has several, or as many applications as he can think he will receive, then of course cast his vote for the one who according to his judgment will be successful in conducting the school in such a manner as to attain the best progress and advancement of the pupils and give satisfaction to the majority of the patrons. I underscore my majority, because no matter how good the teacher or how ignorant or intelligent the patrons, somebody would be dissatisfied and find fault or criticize, or they wouldn't enjoy good health, or there would be an epidemic in the district.

In considering the qualifications of the teacher, his certificate of course obtained from the county superintendent being prima facie evidence of the fact of his competency to teach—the director should remember that "ability to teach the branches prescribed does not alone qualify a person to teach our youth. In addition thereto, they should be persons who, for their own virtue and morality, are fitted to be trusted with the person and mind of the child. They should be entitled to and receive the entire confidence of the patron and pupil. If suspicion of vice or immorality be once entertained against a teacher, his influence for good is gone." (School law of Illinois, Article XXVII, Section 2-3.)

The most important point therefore for the director to consider is the teacher's personality. Above, beneath, beyond all the teacher says or does or teaches is his personality. It is not nearly so much what we say or what we do, as what we are, that counts with men as well as God.

We grow to be like those whom we love and admire and with whom we continually associate. After Peter and James and John and Philip and Nathaniel had been following and obeying and loving Christ for two of three years, people took knowledge of them that "they had been with Jesus and had learned of Him." Thus we see that the beneficial influence of a noble, Christian character in the teacher can scarcely be estimated.

Another most important requisite among the teacher's qualifications is heart-power.
To be successful he must love his work and love his pupils. Good teaching is important; but the most approved teaching, so far as method is concerned, will not avail, unless it is struck through with love. Love must be its life, its spirit; it must throbb in it like the pulses in a human body. As one of the poets has beautifully said:

"Persuasion, friends, ome not by toll or art;
Hard study never made the matter clearer;
Tis the live fountain in the speaker's heart Sends forth the streams which meet the raptured hearer.
Then work away for life; heap book on book, Take upon thee, heap precept on example;
The stupid multitude may gaze and look,
And fools may think your stock of wisdom ample;
But all remain unmoved. To touch the heart,
To make men feel, requires a different art:
For touching hearts, the only secret known,
My worthy friend, is this: To have one of your own."

The second problem of the school director in relation to the teacher to be considered is the equipment of the school.
In his circular letter to school directors of Morgan county, dated Jan. 6, 1905, our esteemed and efficient county superintendent said: "Good tools with which to work are essential to good work by the teacher, and very necessary in obtaining the best results from the pupils." He does not recommend, however, directors purchasing everything that is presented to them, for very often articles are sold to school districts that have no educational value, or at most very little. A most excellent rule as suggested in Mr.
Montgomery's letter quoted above, is for "members of a school board, before making a purchase, to know what their teacher or county superintendent thinks of it; and to consult with them and determine how much the article to be purchased can be used, and what is its educational value." When any apparatus is submitted for my approval or recommendation, I measure it by the above rule. You may depend upon it that if an agent can not show a recommendation from your county superintendent for some article he wishes to sell to the schools of the county, that either the superintendent has not seen the article, or that he has refused to endorse it.

I herewith present you a list of articles with which every school should be supplied, taken from Mr. Montgomery's letter before referred to, to-wit: Map of the world, maps of North America, South America, Europe, Asia, Africa, United States, Illinois; blackboard, ornate and crayons, Webster's International dictionary, a school encyclopedia, number and reading charts, globe, clock, thermometer, bookcase, call bell, hand bell, window blinds, waste paper basket, broom, duster, foot scraper, door mat, the also especially recommends Hill's reference library, consisting of four volumes, written in simple language and very complete, and costing but $15.

Co-operation of director with teacher in maintaining order and discipline. The school law of Illinois, Article V, section 2-3, says: "In the direct performance of the duties imposed by law upon school directors, they must exercise judgment and discretion. What rules and regulations will best promote the interests of the school under their immediate control, and what branches shall be taught, and what text books shall be used, are matters left to the determination of the directors and must be settled from the best lights they can obtain from any source, keeping always in view the good of the school. Good order can only be maintained from enforcing discipline, and that power is largely committed to the directors. They have the power of suspension or expulsion, and they may exercise that power as a means of discipline for the causes mentioned in the statute. That implies declaration and decision on the part of the directors or, as it is sometimes expressed, they act judicially in a matter involving discretion in relation to the duties of their office."

Article V, Section 2-3: A mere mistake in judgment, either as to their duties under the law, or as to facts submitted to them, ought not to subject such officers to an action. They may judge wrongly—so may a court or other tribunal—but the party complaining can have no action when such officers act in good faith. Any other rule might work very great hardships to honest men who, with the very best of motives, have fairly and faithfully endeavored to perform the duties of these inferior offices. They are considered inferior offices, yet they are of the utmost importance to the public.

Furthermore, in Article V, Section 2-3, we read: "The authority of a teacher over his pupil being regarded as a delegation of at least a portion of the parental authority, the presumption is in favor of the correctness of the teacher's action in inflicting corporal punishment upon the pupil. The teacher must not have been actuated by malice, nor have inflicted the punishment wantonly. For an error in judgment, although the punishment is unnecessarily excessive, if it is not of a nature to cause lasting injury, and he acts in good faith, the teacher is not liable." Thus we see that unless there is order and discipline there can not be an efficient school, and in case of a controversy arising on this point, the director should by all means support the teacher in enforcing the rules and maintaining order and discipline.

The fourth point I wish to mention in the problem of the school director in relation to the teacher is the compensation of the teacher. Having knowledge of the amount of salary paid to teachers of only a very few of the schools of our county makes this a rather difficult proposition for me to consider. However, judging by my limited knowledge and meagre experience, I think, in a good many instances, the compensation afforded is not commensurate with the service rendered.

A good teacher should be paid all the district is able to afford by a reasonable rate of taxation. By paying better wages we would secure better teachers, and more of the better class of teachers would be induced to follow this noble calling as a profession permanently instead of incidentally to help them to something more remunerative pecuniarily, as so many now do.

If the wages paid were such as to enable the teacher to travel and study during his vacation, instead of being compelled to seek some other kind of employment to obtain subsistence, he would certainly improve and perfect himself in his noble art much more rapidly than it is possible for him to do under present existing conditions.

The money consideration, however, is not the only compensation the faithful teacher receives. For, first, there is really no happiness comparable to that of doing good. There is, and always must be, a happiness in the fulfillment of our true function—that for which we were born. Now, undoubtedly, we were born to help one another. Love is no side issue; it is the fulfilling of the law. Even the heathen saw something of this. "We were born for co-operation," said the saintly stoic emperor, Marcus Aurelius; and he meant the same as the apostle who wrote: "None of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself." Again, the work of a teacher may give a touch of interest, even of romance, to lives otherwise dull and unattractive.
Then there is the reward of love. What teacher who has felt a child slipping a little hand into his own, and looking up into his eyes with a smile of affection and trustfulness, does not realize that it is worth much to have rendered to a fellow human being the kindness and service which have won such gratitude?
Those who understand the depth of this reward will enter into Browning's lines:

"For life, with all it yields of joy and woe, And hope and fear—believe the aged friend—
Is just our chance of the prize of learning love—
How love might be, hath been, indeed, and is."

Truly, "it is more blessed to give than to receive," and especially so to those who give to them of whom the Teacher or all teachers said: "Of such is the kingdom of heaven."

"Who, then, shall estimate the reward to those who strenuously and faithfully teach God's children—who are allowed the inestimable privilege of giving them "beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that He might be glorified." And, again, we read from the prophet, Daniel: "They that be wise (teachers, the margin says,) shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever."

OPERETTA AT HIGH SCHOOL

"The House That Jack Built" Very Artistically Rendered by the High School Musical Club, Assisted by Pupils of Grades.

The auditorium of the high school building was well filled last night with a delighted audience gathered to enjoy the rendering of the famous operetta, "The House That Jack Built," by members of the high school musical club, assisted by pupils of the grades. The pretty affair was a success from start to finish and was a cause for pardonable pride on the part of the management and the talented young people who took the several parts. Jacksonville is a musical city and her reputation was fully sustained last night in the rendition of the program. The parts were admirably costumed and all looked the characters taken.

The singing was fine and all used their voices with a will that betokened ample preparation and good ability on the part of the singers. The work of the children of the grades was also highly commendable.
While not having so much to do as the others they did what fell to them most admirably. Of course where there are so many in the cast it is impossible to make individual mention of the performers, suffice to say all worked conscientiously and with a will and received their reward in the appreciation of the audience which was not at all slow to express the great pleasure the performers gave. The stage was finely dressed and all was in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. Much credit is due to Miss Ailsie Goodrick for her faithful and tireless work in drilling the young people, while those who assisted her are also to be commended.

The silent drills were wonderfully exact and free from error. The children were as sweet and artless as children only can be and were objects of admiration on every hand.
The singing was good and the acting of all was deserving of great praise. The blackbirds won great applause and did wonderfully well. The elves were very attractive and the whole affair was good, while the costumes were well night faultless.

The playing of the high school orchestra was fully in keeping with its fine musical reputation and added no little to the pleasure of the evening.
The high school musical club may be certain of an audience whenever they offer such a bill as the one presented last night.

ROADS EFFECT THE COUNTRY CHURCHES.

Services at the churches in the country have been inevitably small and in many cases postponed the past two weeks. Rev. Nathan English drove to Sinclair last Sunday and had to leave his horse with W. SAVE YOUR HEALTH

It Is Worth Saving and Some Jacksonville People Know This.

There are some people who take their lives in their hands by continuing to neglect their kidneys, when they know these organs need help.

Sick kidneys are responsible for an immense amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer or to remain in danger when all diseases and sufferings arising from sick kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is the statement of one Jacksonville person who has reclaimed good health by the use of this remedy:

"A. H. Coffman, of West Morgan street, dealer in second hand furniture and stoves, says: 'Across my loins just over those organs there was a heavy aching pain. I could not rest long, either sitting or lying, and in the morning I always felt more tired and depressed than when I went to bed. The pains became more persistent and the kidney secretions were highly colored and irregular; in fact, my general health was run down. I tried different medicines, but remained the same. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at Dr. H. Lee Hatch's drug store and used them. They worked like a charm, giving a healthy and natural action to the kidneys and relieved my back of distressing aches and pains.'

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE MEDICAL SCHOOL

Subject of Paper Before Historical Society by Dr. Carl E. Black—Paper on Early Schools and School Teachers by Dr. W. F. Short.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Morgan County Medical society was held in the library building Friday evening. The papers were of unusual interest, and were heard with the closest attention, and their discussion was participated in by quite a number.

The first paper was by Dr. W. F. Short, upon "Some Early Schools and School Teachers of Morgan County." The paper was an unusually interesting one, which will be printed in full at a later date.

In the absence of Dr. Norbury, who was to have read a paper at the meeting, Dr. Carl E. Black presented his paper on "The Old Illinois College Medical School." In an interesting manner the speaker traced the development and success of the school through its five years of life, reading freely from the catalogues of the school, and from the minutes of the meetings of the board of trustees of Illinois college in reference to this department, which, although really a department of Illinois college, was considered as a distinct school, supported independently, and even paid rent to Illinois college. It has been generally supposed that this was the first medical school in the state, but the speaker showed that perhaps Rush Medical college of Chicago held one session prior to the opening of this school in 1813. The records showed the instructors to be as follows: Anatomy, Dr. James Prince, of Quincy; chemistry, Dr. Samuel Adams, of Illinois college; obstetrics, Dr. Henry Jones, of Jacksonville. Although the record gave Dr. James Prince, of Quincy, as a member of the faculty, the speaker believed that Dr. David Prince was meant, as he is referred to later. There were fourteen students the first year, and for several years the medical department had more students than the collegiate department. Six M. D.s were given the first year. The requirements for admission to the school were a general education and a certain amount of study with a reputable physician, and there was no requirement for the degree of M. D., except "sufficient knowledge of medicine to pass a creditable examination." Dr. H. K. Jones, Dan Pierson and other men later equally well known were among the first students mentioned. The fees were $60 for lectures, $5 for dissections and $10 for degree. The first class was graduated in 1818, there appearing upon the record no reason for the discontinuance of the school, which is supposed to have been because of the prejudice of the people against the anatomical department.

Dr. Black treated his subject in an especially full and interesting manner, and the paper was greatly enjoyed. At the meeting of the directors, prior to the regular meeting of the society, Mrs. Thomas Worthington was elected director to succeed Dr. Josephine Milligan, resigned. Several committee appointments were also made.

APPROPRIATE MONUMENT.

A handsome and appropriate monument to the memory of the late Frank A. Johnson has been erected on the lot where his remains lie buried by the teachers and pupils of the country schools, in recognition of the pleasant relations which ever existed between them and Mr. Johnson, while the latter was county superintendent. The structure is of Montello granite, inscribed: "Erected to the Memory of Frank A. Johnson by the Teachers of Morgan County, Assisted by the Pupils." The die has one side polished, and the others rock faced. The faces of the die are traced with an ivy design. Mr. Johnson was much beloved by the teachers of the county.

ENJOYED BANQUET.

The members of the Musical and Treble Clef clubs of the high school enjoyed a banquet at Talbot's Cafe Friday evening, immediately after the opera at the high school. An elaborate menu of ten courses, which was served in faultless style, required two hours for discussion, which were spent in a delightful manner.

THE WEATHER.

The mercury took a decided drop Friday night and at 2:30 o'clock this (Saturday) morning the thermometer registered 5 degrees above zero. Old Sol showed his smiling face for a few hours Friday, the first time for nearly a week, and many thought this a sign of returning spring.

Munich Eats Horse.

Horseflesh consumption increased in Munich, reports Mr. Wright, owing to the government restrictions upon beef imports. The 500 annual average number of horses slaughtered for human food a decade ago increased in 1905 to 3,000. Beef of the poorest quality now costs 20 to 25 cents per pound, while horseflesh is 7 and 8 cents. From a Circular Report.

THE DEATH RECORD

"BE ON SPEAKING TERMS WITH YOUR NEIGHBOR AND CURSE NOT" WAS INJUNCTION

Emphasized at Tabernacle Meeting by Dr. Culpepper—Addressed Immense Audience—Four Services For Sunday.

It was a large congregation that gathered at the tabernacle Friday evening. Every seat was taken and some were standing in the rear. After the song service and a very earnest prayer by Rev. Mr. Conoley, Rev. T. H. Marsh, of the First Baptist church, made the offering appeal, asking for larger contributions, and stating that the ushers had made complaint that when the baskets were passed some would hold them and try to count how much they contained. He hoped that this practice would cease.

Dr. J. B. Culpepper then made the announcement of services for to day and Sunday, which are as follows: At 3 o'clock this afternoon Rev. O. B. Culpepper will deliver a sermon especially to young boys and girls. He announced that no meeting would be held this evening, but a vote taken just a few minutes before closing it was decided to have the meeting to night as usual. The services for Sunday will begin with a prayer meeting at 9:30 a. m., preaching at 10:15 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Culpepper, while sitting, began his remarks by saying: "I am going to try and do a little to night which I ought not to do. I am going to preach on a subject that I should have preached last week. I have three or four sermons yet, that I must deliver before I go away if it takes me until Wednesday to do so. I want to thank the many kind friends who so kindly prayed for me while I was sick, at the hotel, and for the many beautiful flowers which were sent to me by kind friends. I am going to talk on prayer, one side of it. If I regard iniquity in my heart the Lord will not hear me. I want to talk a little while on the iniquity of malice. It takes a good deal to keep the average person in a good humor all of the time. The Lord said: 'I will hold them guilty that take my name in vain.' If you are going to kill a man you need not curse him. If you do kill a man there are a good many ways you could get out of it, you might plead crazy, you did it in self defense or that you hit him a harder lick than you intended to, but you can leave God's name out of it. A man that swears is a bad man. A man that will not regard the name of his mother or his God is a wicked man. If I would insult your wife, sister, daughter or sweetheart, you would be indignant at it and want vengeance. If you do not forgive your fellow men for trespassing, will your God forgive you? He that hateth his brother and does not forgive him for trespassing, neither will your God forgive you for your sins. A man that will curse another is a bad man. Who are you anyway? When did you get on such terms with the Messiah that you can walk up to him and tell him to throw a man in hell to suit you? You women, you are constantly going on and saying that he or she made me so mad that I told him or her what I thought of them. You say, 'we don't speak.' You ought to be spanked and made to stay at home. A woman in the twentieth century who will not speak to her neighbor! Well it is a burning shame. The preacher calls on your neighbor and prays for her, but you are better than he, and will not speak to her. Jesus Christ lost His life in a scuffle for her life, but you are better than Him and will not speak to her. Men and women going around putting, but you say he or she did me wrong, was wronged, the angels were wronged, Jesus Christ was wronged, the angels were wronged, but that was no proposition. Jesus was wronged and forgave you, so why should you not speak to your neighbor?"

At this point Dr. Culpepper told a story about a servant who owed his master a large sum of money. He threatened to sell the servant and his family into servitude, ages down, until the debt was paid. "The servant pleaded with the king until he finally forgave the debt. This pleased him so much that he rushed home and told his wife and children what the king had done and they were so pleased that they would fairly worship the ground the king walked upon. But wait until I tell you what this man did on his way home. Leaving the king's palace, going out of the gate, he met a fellow servant who owed him five cents. He rushed up to him and demanded in loud tones and abusive language the five cents, but the fellow servant did not have it and he was thrown in jail. The king heard of it in a short time and sent for his servant to come to him. The king said: 'I understand that after I forgave you of that large debt that you could not forgive a man and give him time to pay you a very small debt. Go to hell and stay there.' That is the way with people. Jesus will forgive our large crimes and actions, yet we so often will not forgive anyone for a little bit of a thing. Who authorized you to run this country and boss your neighbors? Oh, that God may wake you up on this important subject. A manly man can do most anything that can be done. Are you thinking of this important subject now? Is there anything in your heart or mind that is against anybody? No chain is stronger than its weakest link. You say, I won't forgive, then God won't forgive you say I will forgive, but I'll never forget. God will treat you in the same way. You will forgive and go your way, God will forgive and go His way and forget all about you. You must forgive unconditionally and right now, and God will forgive you.

"When you go to a doctor don't you settle by his account, when you go to the butcher don't you settle by his bill? Brother, you say you can't settle your account; let me have it for fifteen minutes and I will settle it for you; you fool around here and the first thing you know you lose your soul. You ought to be ashamed of yourselves. If you are not so small that grace can not find you; if you are not so little that God can not find you things can be fixed up. You don't want to leave your troubles for some one else to settle up. We have no business leaving these troubles. We should rub them out and start over again. A big man or woman can do about anything that can be done and you can settle if you are not so small that God can not find you. A manly man or a womanly woman can do most anything that can be done. I am preaching citizenship and the golden rule. If you have wronged a man you ought to right it at once. Be in a hurry about it, vengeance might overtake you. If you remember some one who has got something against you, you must get that malice out of his heart, no one else can."

Dr. Culpepper then said that he was going to have Rev. Mr. Conoley and Rev. Burke Culpepper stand out in front and any one in the house who had anything against anyone or knew of anyone who had anything against them to come forward and take the preachers by the hand and say that they would try and get the malice out of their hearts. A great many came forward and said that they would do so at once. At the after meeting a large number came forward saying that they wanted to join the church and live for Christ.

A "World of White"

AT THE

TRADE PALACE

This is the Greatest White Season the World of Fashion has Ever Known.

In giving this "world of white" sale we want to impress you not only with the size and variety of our white stocks and the lowness of the regular and special prices, but also with the preparedness this store always shows in meeting the requirements of fashion in the progress of the world.

Formerly the White Good Department comprised a very small part in the makeup of the stocks of a Dry Goods Store.

To day every fabric in wash goods, every weave in woollen goods, each and every part of the wearing apparel whether woven or knitted enters into the making of a "world of white." You are bound to need these later if not now.

If we could always sell goods for these prices you'd never have heard a word from us about "special sales." But we can't and as prices must inevitably return to their normal level the minute this sale comes to an end, you should come here now.

Special Values.

Sheet, Pillow Cases, Muslin Bed Spreads, Embroideries, Laces, Handkerchiefs, Ribbons, Gloves, Muslin Underwear, Linens and Lawns, Wool Batistes, Albatross, Cashmeres, Mohairs, Serges, Acollans, Voiles, Wool Tulle, Laidowns and Danish cloths.

ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE

OF SHOT GUN BRINGS
DEATH TO ABSOLAM TAY-LOR.

Was Member of Clear Lake Hunting Party—Projecting Plunger on Gun of Companion Struck Shell and Victim Received Entire Charge in Right Lung.

Absolam Taylor, of Exeter, was accidentally shot and almost instantly killed Friday morning at about 11 o'clock at Clear lake, Scott county, ten miles south of Bluffs, by his friend and companion, Robert Brown.
The boys were members of a party who had been camping at Clear lake for several days hunting ducks. The accident occurred in a corn field bordering the lake, and was witnessed by the other members of the party.

The members of the party were H. Stewart, Jr., Robert L. Brown, and Morris and Absolam Taylor.
The young men of Exeter, and close friends. The place where their camp was about twelve miles from Exeter, and about seven miles from Bluffs. Friday they had prepared an early dinner, and had returned to the site of the lake to await the ducks.
They were standing in a corn field, and Taylor being about ten feet from Brown. The latter had just re-loaded his gun, and was closing the cock, when the projecting plunger struck the cap of one of the shells, which exploded, sending the entire charge of large duck shot into the right lung of Taylor.

The companions were completely overcome by the terrible accident, but hastily summoned Drs. Evans and Huntsey, of Bluffs.

Death ensued, however, about three-quarters of an hour after the accident, and the boy had been dead for some time when the doctors arrived. The remains were removed to Exeter, where the inquest will be held.

Taylor was 22 years of age, and was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs.
Tasper Taylor. His aged parents are tricken with grief at their terrible misfortune and have the sympathy of the entire community.

Some Reasons

There are many reasons why these Buck's ranges are the best in the world. Three of them are:

They are built from the very best of material by the very best of workmen.

They are so constructed as to combine beauty with quick heating, fuel-saving qualities.

They have all the improvements and advantages found in other ranges and then some.

Buck's Range Tops are Always Level.

The long centers are made in two inter-locking pieces, instead of one.
Room for expansion and contraction is allowed; warping of tops is impossible.

Buck's Range Tops Heat Up Quickly

The lids, while strong and durable, are so thin that the mere heat of a match will affect them. A quickly heated stove lid means a quickly prepared meal.
